Scholarship Procedures

NCF welcomes individuals to establish scholarship funds for the benefit of students in primary, secondary, college, graduate, trade and technical degrees. Private foundations may contribute funds to an established scholarship fund, however, in order to participate in the review and recommendation process of the candidates, they must comply with the expenditure responsibility requirements of the IRS code. The following six criteria must be met and included in each Scholarship program.

- 1 The scholarships must be for degree candidates at qualified educational institutions. All candidates must be working toward a diploma or degree. Fellowships and research programs must be part of a degree program and the recipient must be actively working toward receiving a degree.
- A "qualified educational institution" must have regular faculty, curriculum and an organized body of students in attendance at the location of the primary campus. Internet only and correspondence only schools do not qualify.
- 2 The scholarship must specify what expenses can be covered by the scholarship. Typically, that would be tuition, books, fees and any expensed that are required to be spent for the pursuit of the degree.
- 3 The candidate must meet objective academic and performance criteria. It may be based on need, academics or other criteria, but the measure of that should be objective and preferably provided by a third party.
- 4 The scholarship recipient cannot be required to perform services as a condition to receive the scholarship or fellowship. The candidate should not be exempt from any work normally required of all students, however, they cannot be required to perform additional duties as a condition of the scholarship.
- 5 The scholarship recipient must annually account for all scholarship expenses and provide receipts for items not included in the school's accounting.
- 6 The scholarship recipient must agree to provide periodic academic reports.

NCF Scholarship Process

- 1 Scholarships must be either endowed or the funds for the full term of the scholarship must be received by the scholarship committee prior to awarding any scholarships from the fund. (The Scholarship fund may be established at any time, however, no scholarships may be awarded until such time as the full required funds are available for distribution, if awarded.) Persons establishing the scholarship may recommend who will make up the membership of the local scholarship committee. The local scholarship committee is responsible for the advertising and solicitation of applications for that particular scholarship, review the applications and recommend candidates to the NCCF scholarship committee which is charged with the responsibility of choosing the scholars.
- 2 The local Scholarship committee may establish the guidelines around which the scholarship will be awarded. They should be as broad as possible, yet focused enough to accomplish the desired purpose. It may be, for example, for persons of a particular denomination attending a particular school from a particular city. However, it may not be person specific or so narrow as to indicate a very small class of persons.
- 3 The local scholarship committee will receive the applications, review them for their compliance to the guidelines, review and interview the candidates, (if desired), and recommend candidates to the NCF scholarship committee. Upon review and approval by the NCF staff, and review and approval by the NCF scholarship committee, the candidates are recommended to the Board of Directors for review and possible approval. Upon disposition of the request by the Board of Directors, the local scholarship committee is notified and either they, or the NCF staff will contact the candidate.
- 4 The candidate and their school must complete compliance contracts prior to funds being distributed.
- 5 NCF will monitor the academic progress and financial accountability of the students.
